

Peace Poem
by Roxanne Akhtar

Our father who art in heaven
Please acknowledge our progression
You have taught us right from wrong
Your faith in us has kept us strong
As we follow your good word
We will continue the fight to be heard
So the world can see through your eyes
Eyes that love and kindness can't disguise
As we fight for world peace
We have hope that hate will one day cease
Peace, justice and equality will come
And one day we will all be one
And unite in your vision
In a world without division
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done
With the love of god's only son
Peace will rise again
Amen
