For the Sake of the Common good

Bringing together contributions by people have been influenced by Lois Wilson's practical Christianity, progressive values, and commitment to ending oppression in all forms. Such as Louise Arbour, Lloyd Axworthy, Irwin Cotler, Bill Blaikie, Alia Hogben, Mary Jo Leddy, Stan McKay, and Michael Blair

Their essays urge us to think about the many ways we can work toward the common good: by welcoming refugees, developing ecologically sustainable ways of life, repairing relations with Indigenous Peoples, protecting the rights of LGBTQ+ people and all who are oppressed, defending political prisoners, and respecting religious rights and the place of faith in public life. In such ways, we can restore right relations with the Earth and with each other.

For the Sake of the Common Good gratefully acknowledges Lois Wilson's inspiring legacy while taking on the important task of continuing her work.

Coming in June Building Gods Beloved Community

Drawing on the expertise of United Church theologians and ministers from across the country, Building God's Beloved Community outlines the church's approach to some of the big questions about God, the Bible, and theology, narrates the life of Jesus as both a historical figure and the Messiah, and provides an overview of the history of Christianity and the United Church. This book also offers insight into United Church worship, tradition, doctrine, and governance, while introducing readers to its legacy of social justice as a lived expression of faith
